Introduction to Montana's Fishing Access Sites

This guide describes 306 Fishing Access Sites (FASs) located on Montana's streams, rivers, and lakes that vary in size from less than one acre to several hundred acres. All Fishing Access Sites available to the public as of January 1, 2007 are included. New sites are added to the FAS program each year. These sites will be added to the next reprinting of this brochure. Montana's FAS Program provides public access to high quality waters for angling, boating, rafting, and other recreation opportunities. In addition, FAS's are often popular areas for hunting, wildlife viewing, hiking, bird watching, picnicking, etc. The funding to purchase, develop, and maintain these important sites comes from the sale of sportsman's licenses, state motorboat registration fees, and federal Sport Fish Restoration fees.

FEES

There are no day use fees for Montana's FAS program; however, where overnight camping is allowed, a camping fee may be charged. The revenue from the camping fees is used to offset the additional expenses involved in operating and maintaining these higher use sites.

COMMERCIAL USE

A permit is required to conduct commercial activities at fishing access sites. Please contact the Regional FWP administrative office or the FWP website for more information.

CAMPING

Many of the FASs are managed as day use only, but camping is allowed at 103 locations. Please refer to the specific site information in this brochure and also reference the table in the back of the brochure for a list of the sites where camping is permitted. An overnight camping fee is charged at many of the sites.

- FASs are primitive or semi-primitive sites. They do not have electricity, running water, or dump stations. Not all sites are designed for access by larger recreational vehicles. It may be necessary to physically inspect the facility before pulling in if the parking area is not visible from the access road.
- Additional camping opportunities with higher levels of development are available at Montana's state parks and at other locations throughout the state. Please refer to the State Parks brochure for a list of state parks with campgrounds.

WEAPONS/FIREARMS RESTRICTIONS

The use of paintball guns, trap and target shooting, plinking, and similar activities are not allowed at any time within an FAS. The use of firearms/weapons at an FAS for the purpose of hunting is established on a site-by-site basis. Where hunting is allowed, weapons restrictions may apply. Some sites are closed to hunting for safety concerns. Where hunting is permitted, the general hunting regulations apply for the district in which the FAS is located. Please check the site specific information in the guide for details. The following designations apply:

- discharge of weapons prohibited - no discharge of firearms/weapons allowed at any time, including for hunting
- open during established hunting seasons with no weapons restrictions
- discharge of weapons restricted - specific restrictions such as no rifle, archery and/or shotgun only, archery only and shotgun only may be listed for a site. If no information is provided, please contact the Regional FWP office. Refer to page 5 for Regional contact information.

THE MONTANA STREAM ACCESS LAW

- The law states that, when legal access is gained to a stream or river, recreationists may legally go up and down the stream from that point as long as they stay within the normal high water mark. The law does not apply to recreational use of lakes. Consequently, the river/streambed above and below the boundaries of the Fishing Access Sites listed in this brochure is available for recreational use providing there is room to walk/wade below the normal high water mark of the stream.
- Anglers and other recreationists cannot, however, take short cuts across private property or walk above the high water mark when following the stream/river or entering or exiting the stream/river without prior landowner permission. Following these simple rules of etiquette is critical to maintaining good sportsman/landowner relationships.
- For more detailed information on the Stream Access Law please refer to the Stream Access brochure available at Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks offices.

HOW TO USE THE FIELD GUIDE TO FISHING ACCESS SITES

This booklet provides a guide to the fishing access sites in Montana as of January 1, 2007. It is organized by fishing districts to correspond with Montana's Fishing Regulations. The major fish species for a waterbody are listed following the waterbody name. Within each fishing district, sites are listed by the waterbody map on which they are displayed. For each map, waterbodies are listed alphabetically. The sites for a waterbody are listed by river mile beginning at the headwaters (Mile 0 is measured at the mouth and miles increase toward the headwaters and side-of-river is given as you are facing downstream) or alphabetically for sites on lakes, reservoirs or ponds. The waterbody names and the most common fish species for that waterbody are printed in color. The FWP Administrative Region in which a site occurs is listed in parentheses following the directions to the site. FWP Regions are displayed on the map on page 5 along with a list of contact numbers.

All Fishing Access Sites are listed alphabetically in the Index (pages 62-63).

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks encourages responsible outdoor recreation through the national Leave No Trace Outdoor Ethics program. A large rainbow trout is the central focus, resting on a bed of smooth, wet river stones. The fish's scales are detailed with dark spots and a vibrant pinkish-red stripe along its side. Its fins are spread slightly, and its eyes are clear. In the background, another fish is visible, partially obscured by the water's surface. The water is clear, showing the fish's detailed scales and fins. The stones are wet and glistening, reflecting the light. The overall scene is a close-up, capturing the texture of the fish and the environment.
